Scouting for Food drive successful

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

Local food pantries will be much better prepared to meet the holiday needs of the less fortunate thanks to the effort of about 2,300 youth and 300 adult volunteers last week.

Dave Capstick, scout executive for the Trails West Council, Boy Scouts of America, said that about 13,000 containers of food were collected in the Madison County area during the scouts' annual "Scouting for Food" campaign.

"It really was successful. That is about a 10 percent increase over last year," Capstick said.

Total, we not total because food collection points were also set up at Magna Banks and food collected there had not yet been counted.

The "Scouting for Food" program works like this: once word spreads, volunteers go to the doors of area residents; the next week, those volunteers pick up the bags, which residents have stuffed with nonperishable food items, and distribute the donations to local food pantries.

One unique feature of the "Scouting for Food" drive is that all food collected remains in the community.

"Food collected in Highland stays in Highland. Food collected in Granite City stays in Granite City. It doesn't go to Chicago or even St. Louis," Capstick said.

In Granite City, Protestant Welfare and the Salvation Army were beneficiaries of the campaign.

'Tree of Lights' drive to kick off

By Hilley Schulte
Staff writer

The Salvation Army's "Tree of Lights" Christmas campaign fund drive will officially kick off Friday, Nov. 25, in the Granite City Wal-Mart parking lot.

And according to Lt. Commander Tim Miller, it will be the biggest so far.

The kick-off will be held from 10 a.m. to noon with more than 70 donors present. Miller said that any other donors are welcome to participate, and may or may not have their donation amounts disclosed.

There will be 30 to 35 attractions, all available free to the public. Steve and Diane Gosselin will bring their live starting at 9:45 a.m., and more than 40 Harley Davidson motorcycles will be led by Santa Claus.

There will be a military display featuring World War II and Vietnam museum pieces, an antique car show, Saturday, Miller said that any other donations are welcome to participate, and may or may not have their donation amounts disclosed.

Other attractions will include a hot air balloon, Ronald McDonald, a Kentucky Fried Chicken wing, Kool-Aid guy, Gateway International, Mr. Taco from Taco Bell, Mrs. Pancake from International House of Pancakes, Shinerowns and The Nerd from Shinerowns.

Other various businesses will also attend and offer free samples to the

Just doing what he had to do Eavenson treats victim on flight

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

Dr. Mark Eavenson says he was just doing what he had to do.

But to Virgil Wooley, Eavenson is a hero.

Eavenson, a Granite City chiropractor, licensed nurse and former emergency medical technician with the Granite City Fire Department, may well have saved Wooley's life.

On Sunday, Eavenson, his wife Laura and their daughter Ashley, 7, boarded a Southwest Airlines flight to St. Louis looking forward to a relaxing trip home.

But the trip was anything but relaxing for Eavenson.

Delivery change due to holiday

Dear Readers:

Just a note to remind you that next Wednesday's Journal, one of our biggest papers of the year, will be delivered a day later than normal again this year.

Instead of the customary Tuesday evening delivery time, our annual Thanksgiving edition will be delivered on Wednesday evening.

As part of the holiday change, the Granite City Press-Record will be published on Wednesday instead of the normal Thursday. It will be delivered 24 hours earlier than normal.

Have a safe and happy holiday!

RideFinders offers alternative

For those who are tired of driving back and forth from work, Madison County Transit offers an alternative through RideFinders.

U.S. Secretary of Transportation Federico Pena was in St. Louis Monday to endorse RideFinders.

RideFinders is a carpooling program which is stepping up operation throughout the region, including Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties in Illinois, the city of St. Louis and St. Louis, St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson counties in Missouri.

The RideFinders program links people and places by matching individuals who want to carpool or vanpool.

RideFinders also works with major employers in the region to start or to register vanpools and car pools.

The program is designed to reduce traffic congestion and air pollution. Currently, the St. Louis metro area is rated by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as a moderate ozone non-attainment area.

However, over the past three years, air pollution monitors show the air quality in the region is getting worse. This condition must improve by 1996 or the St. Louis area will face complicated, costly new air pollution regulations.

Currently, RideFinders has 30 registered vanpools, and 425 registered carpools.

A carpool is two or more people sharing a ride in a personal vehicle. One person may solely do the driving, or the team can split the driving. The program also offers flexibility. Not everyone needs to ride the car pool every day.

Seven to 15 people share rides in a RideFinders sponsored van. Vanpools are committee for free and receive a limited personal use of the van.

Van passenger fares are based on mileage and number of passengers in the vanpool. Included is a vehicle maintenance program, insurance and emergency towing and back-up vehicles.

Because everyone must deal with the occasional personal emergency, and in case a pool is missed, RideFinders offers a Guaranteed Ride Home.

RideFinder participants receive up to six guaranteed rides per year.

The guaranteed ride can be obtained by getting a voucher from the company's representative, a taxicab, and the registered RideFinder participant pays nothing.

Ridefinders listed many benefits of utilizing its service including extra time and money saved.

A press release for RideFinders said participants have more time to "relax, read the paper, study or daydream" while sharing a ride.

"Every day that you carpool, you'll save money on depreciation, maintenance and insurance for your car. If you vanpool, you'll save money too," said the press release.

RideFinders is funded 90 percent by the Federal Highway Administration, Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement funds allocated to the states of Missouri and Illinois.

For more information call 1-800-VIP-RIDE, or 1-800-647-7433.

Jennison-Wright cleanup begins

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

The environmental cleanup of the former Jennison-Wright property in West Granite has begun.

The $2 million Illinois Environmental Protection Agency cleanup—which will only address the most hazardous wastes and materials on the site—is expected to take between two to three months to complete.

A much larger cleanup addressing all contamination and costing more than $10 million, is not expected to commence until at least three years from now, according to Steve Davis, IEPA project manager.

"I'll tell you right now, $2 million doesn't buy too much in the way of cleanup these days," Davis said.

For example, Davis characterized groundwater under the site as "grossly contaminated," but said that phase of the cleanup does absolutely nothing to address groundwater.

"The money just isn't there," he said.

The 20-acre site is one of only four identified as part of the Superfund Accelerated Cleanup Model (SACM). SACM is designed to obtain early action at sites destined for the U.S. EPA's National Priorities List ("Superfund").

"It's a test case. This is a model program set up by EPA to accelerate the cleanup," Davis said.

Michelle Tebrugge, community relations coordinator for IEPA, said the Jennison-Wright property is expected to be placed on the NPL in February. The property was used as a waste treatment facility from 1915 until 1989. Waste creosote, dioxin, pentachlorophenol and asbestos are among the hazardous wastes that remain on the property today.

IEPA has contracted with Riedel Environmental Services to conduct several cleanup activities at the site.

Among the cleanup activities that will be conducted over the next few months are removal of two 160,000-gallon storage tanks containing wastes; removal of a buried railroad car containing sludge; removal of about 190 drums filled with various hazardous wastes; capping and fencing a pit containing a number of hazardous wastes; and a chain-link fence around an area where contamination has spread off-site; removal of an above-ground railroad car containing sludge; and removing wood, scrap metal and other debris.

Air monitoring will take place throughout the cleanup to ensure that no contaminated dust remains off-site, said Greg Rakow of Riedel Environmental.

Most of the material will be taken to an off-site incinerator or permitted hazardous waste landfill. The location has not yet been determined, Davis said.

He estimated that only about 25 percent of the cleanup cost is associated with on-site activities and as much as 75 percent is associated with the disposal of hazardous materials.

Most of the material will be removed on trucks or rail cars.

This sign warns passersby of the dangers at the Jennison-Wright property.

Correction

Due to a production error, several paragraphs in a story in Thursday's Press-Record were scrambled. Political activist Joe McGinnis, who in 1993 ran for mayor, said that he intends to run for 1st Ward alderman in April.

Virgil Kambarian, a former 2nd Ward alderman who resigned the post four years ago to move to Missouri, has since returned to the area and plans to run for alderman in the 2nd Ward. He ran unsuccessfully against Craig Tarhoff in 1993.

Dan Parney said he would seek a third term in the 4th Ward.

Man lucky to be alive after beating

By Scott Wuerz
Staff writer

A local teenager said he feels lucky to be alive after getting involved in an altercation between a co-worker and her ex-boyfriend.

Isaac Duckett, 19, of the 1100 block of Lee Street in Mitchell, said he was beaten with brass knuckles and threatened with a gun Thursday night after the ex-boyfriend followed him home from work. Duckett said he and broken up with the man and woman the previous week after closing time at the Lee's Chicken restaurant, where Duckett worked as a waiter.

The ex-boyfriend allegedly pulled up behind Duckett when he came home from a second job at McDonald's at about 10 p.m. Thursday and called him over to his late model Pontiac in which he was riding with three other men.

The attacker allegedly asked Duckett, "Do you know who I am?" and when Duckett said he did not, the man said, "You will," and jumped out of the car to beat Duckett in the head with brass knuckles.

According to Madison County

Sheriff's Department reports, the other three men joined in the beating, then one of the men produced a handgun pointed at Duckett's head and pulled the trigger. When the gun misfired, Duckett began to yell for his father.

When Duckett's father opened the front door of the residence, the four men fled the scene, authorities said.

Duckett said he was confident his attackers had planned not only to intimidate him, but to kill him.

"I'm lucky my dad heard me, because if that kid would have figured out how to use that gun, I know he was really going to shoot me," Duckett said. "The (deputy sheriff) said they found shells at the scene, so they planned to use that gun."

When he learned his co-worker's ex-boyfriend, Duckett said he did not know the identity of the three other men.

Madison County State's Attorney Robert J. Anderson, Mark von Nida said no arrests have been made and no charges have been filed yet in the case.

Duckett said he received bruised ribs, several knots on his

2 board members say goodbye

By Scott Wuerz

Staff writer

The Madison County Board said goodbye Wednesday to two members who served at their last board meeting.

Bishop Daniel Ryan, representative of District 10 in Alton, and Michael Semanisin, of District 27 in Maryville, ended their term. Both served three years in the Democratic Primary election in March.

Semanisin served 22 years on the board, while Riley served six.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said that they will miss one of its most experienced leaders.

"I think Mike Semanisin for 22 years going back to the time we played ball together in our younger days," Hagnauer said. "I'll remember how Mike fought for Maryville with just the same determination he had on the ball diamond."

"I just hope everyone appreciates all the good things Mike has done for our county," Bishop Ryan and Riley both said they regret leaving the board, but that they were thankful they were able to make an impact.

"It's been a real privilege to be a part of it. I feel it is the best government in the whole United States," Riley said. "It's a sign of good government when we were able to stay in the black and everybody else seems to be in debt."

Semanisin said he thought the board was successful because of its members' ability to get along.

"I just want to thank everybody for the cooperation," Semanisin said. "It was a pleasure to serve on the board."

Democrat, will assume Semanisin's seat after defeating Republican Don Metzler in the general election Nov. 8. Democrat Rick Faccin ran unopposed in Riley's seat.

The new board members will take office on Dec. 1.

Suarez will resign as mayor

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

Charles Suarez's election this month as St. Clair County treasurer was a step up the political ladder for him. But it also means his years as mayor of Fairmount City and as a high school teacher are ending.

Suarez, 47, has been mayor since 1987. He said he'll resign the post following the municipal elections in November, about four months after he's sworn in as county treasurer on Dec. 5.

"There is no conflict of interest between the treasurer's office of the county and my self as far as I know," Suarez said. "I'll be looking next week with administration and deciding the best time to step down, but I'll quit by Dec. 5th."

mayorship, but not until April.

"There are a couple of projects I'd like to see completed while I'm mayor," he said.

Among those projects are the enhancement of the 4th Street Arboretum with a veterans monument and a grant from the Council of the largest companies in the city, to provide jobs for village residents.

Suarez added that he wants to wait until after the election to resign. The Village Board is set, and can make a decision on his replacement. The trustees would choose a new mayor from among themselves, and name a new trustee to be replaced to fill the spot vacated by that person's switch to mayor. Both would then be up for election in two years.

He said he will resign at least 120 days before April's election for his replacement would be up for election in April.

"I think for the peaceful progression of city business, it's best to wait and see how the board is going to be set up before I step down," he said.

Suarez will be stepping down after teaching at CHS before starting his treasurer's job in December, he said. He started teaching at CHS in 1972.

"(Treasurer) is a full-time job," he said. "I quit teaching I'll be looking next week with administration and deciding the best time to step down, but I'll quit by Dec. 5th."

IEPA blasted over landfill expansion

An environmental group is dumping on the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for allowing Chouteau Island landfill to expand.

IEPA Director Mary Gade said the agency was concerned about the dump's location on the Mississippi River, but the agency has no legal basis to deny a permit request by Waste Management Inc. to expand its Chain of Rocks landfill.

Attorney Rob Larson, chairman of Fissas Palisades Group of the Sierra Club, disputed the agency's position.

"We think the IEPA didn't have to grant it. It appears the IEPA doesn't do any monitoring or research on its own and just takes the word of the landfill owner as truth unless you can prove the contrary."

"What we have is someone apply a little common sense. It doesn't appear the bureaucrats have the community's best interests at heart. Why are they that? They are just a rubber stamp."

IEPA officials said they relied on information supplied by the operator and certified by a registered professional engineer and would make changes before the Pollution Control Board "if we think we are being misled."

The IEPA said in a statement announcing its decision that WMI's Master Plan had demonstrated the landfill does not restrict the flow of the 100-year flood plain, reduce water storage capacity of the flood plain or reduce infiltration of solid waste so as to pose a threat to health and the environment.

Although the Great Flood of '93 submerged most of Chouteau Island, most of the buried refuse occurred, based on its inspections.

Those were the only criteria under which the IEPA could legally deny the permit to dump in an unusual 38-acre parcel with in the landfill.

The original landfill permit was granted in 1972. The first 24 acres had been filled and closed, but refuse was being deposited in another 102 acres.

"Although the Chain of Rocks facility was spared last year, we nevertheless worry about the environmental sacrifice of this age, recycling or treatment sites subject to flooding," Gade said.

She said the state Pollution Control Board had asked the IEPA to hold a hearing to examine existing policies on such facilities in areas subject to flooding.

This hearing will allow public comment and expert testimony to help shape rule making and legislative initiatives regarding these sites.

However, any new regulations or laws could not be retroactively applied to deny the expansion permit for the landfill, IEPA spokesman Geoff Sutton said.

Gade noted that the landfill received the required special permits and approvals from the Illinois Department of Transportation and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

She said the landfill "has met all technical requirements and has successfully passed all investigations conducted by state and federal agencies regulating this site."

The Illinois Department of Conservation also reviewed the proposal and found that no natural areas or threatened or endangered species will be affected by the landfill expansion, according to the IEPA.

Larson, however, contends opponents at a public hearing Sept. 22 in Granite City raised serious questions about the permeability of the soil and the adequacy of the layers of seals beneath the dump.

He also noted the Sierra Club's concern about rare and endangered species of birds on the island. Larson said the Sierra Club's executive board would discuss this week whether to mount a legal challenge to the permit approval.

'Ms.' magazine to speak at SIUE

Marcia Ann Gillespie, editor in chief of "Ms." magazine, will be the keynote speaker at the 13th annual celebration of the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Jan. 11 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The celebration will be held in Meridian Hall in the University Center, beginning with a luncheon at 11:30 a.m. The theme of the event is "Women in the Black Community: Make a Difference." The program will be followed by a reception in Gillespie's honor, beginning at 1:30 p.m. in Goshen Lounge.

Gillespie is a feminist crusader, political activist, and social service leader who has been well-known in the publishing field for more than two decades. She was editor-in-chief of "Essence" magazine from 1976 to 1980 and later became a contributing editor columnist, and executive editor for "Ms." before being named to her current position this year.

Gillespie has written extensively on issues of gender and race and is author of a history of the women's movement to be used as a textbook for high school students.

Tickets for the luncheon are $10 each for general admission and $8 for any student.

Tickets may be ordered by calling 692-2660.

allow more water to be absorbed into the tree, thus keeping it moist longer.

You may have to trim off a few branches from the bottom of the tree. A large pair of pruning shears or a small hand saw can tackle this chore easily.

Bring the tree stand out to Frank's stores tomorrow. Here are brief descriptions of the five types you'll find:

Scotch Pines are considered the most durable trees, and they're both a long-time favorite as well. The needles are stout and usually bluish-green in color.

Douglas Firs feature lush, soft needles that are bluish-green. They have a dense, bushy appearance.

Sheared Balsam needles are short, dark, shiny green. The growth is tight and compact.

If you want a more open growth than the sheared balsam, the Traditional Balsam is for you.

Finally, the Fraser Fir offers the most perfect shape of all. Its needles are about an inch long, with a great fragrance.

When selecting the tree, remember that each one looks much smaller out in the open than it will in your home. Many people have found the "perfect" tree in their yard, then discovered it took up half the room once they set it up. By knowing ahead of time how much space you have, you can be more accurate in selecting the tree and won't be in for a surprise when you get it home.

It's a good idea to check the size of your tree stand, too. Balancing a tree while trying to fit it into a stand that's too small while the kids are asking what's taking so long doesn't exactly bring out the holiday cheer in anyone.

Frank's provides free baling of trees, which makes them much easier to handle. When you get the tree home, the baling can easily be cut off with any pair of scissors.

A Frank's associate will make a cut across the bottom of the tree when you purchase it. Within twelve hours of making the cut, the tree should be placed in a water-filled stand. If you're not ready to set the tree up just yet, simply place it in a bucket of water. When you're ready to bring it indoors, make another cut straight across the bottom. The fresh new cut will thoroughly cleanse all light set in the wood, leaving them to the tree. Any worn strings or frayed cords should be discarded. Likewise, if you see any broken or loose sockets, toss the string out and get a new one. When stringing lights on the tree, the plugs should not be subjected to drafts, either.

Never run extension cords under a rug or carpet. And when you go to bed or leave home, always unplug the tree and all other decorations.

AREA NEWS*Anti-abduction safety video available through McDonald's

The anti-abduction safety video, "There's a Stranger in Our Midst," produced locally in response to the Angie Housman and Cassidy Senter abductions last year, is now available to concerned parents and schools through McDonald's restaurants.

The video can be ordered by visiting a participating McDonald's outlet and asking for a trayliner order form. The cost of the tape is $8.95 plus $2.95 for shipping and handling. A portion of the proceeds from the sale of the tapes will be donated to Ronald McDonald Children's Charities.

Start with basics in investing

Sorting out and understanding investment alternatives can be easier than you think, if you start with the basics.

It is important to begin with a fundamental understanding of the alternatives available to you. Some of the information in this article is copyrighted by the National Endowment for Financial Education and not intended for reproduction beyond the NFEF.

Interest-earning securities
These are generally broken down into bonds (fixed income) and cash equivalents (certificates of deposit and money market accounts).

Fixed-income investments, including Treasury, municipal and corporate bonds, are interest-earning securities.

Treasury bonds and notes are considered the safest bonds because they are backed by the full faith and credit of the federal government. Next in safety are municipal bonds. While they are not guaranteed by the government, they are backed by state and local governments or by specific revenue sources.

Bonds are secure corporate bonds, because they are usually only backed by the company that issues them and their degree of safety is directly related to the company's health. Bonds issued by financially strong blue-chip corporations are the safest type of corporate rate, which is recalculated every six months. Series EE bonds sell for half their face or redemption value, which ranges from $50 to $10,000.

Brian

Mortgage-backed securities
These investments represent pools of mortgages backed by the specific government agency and are known as "Ginnie Mae," "Fannie Mae" and "Freddie Mac."

Treasury securities
The U.S. Government borrows money by issuing treasury securities. Treasury bills, notes and bonds are issued regularly by the Federal Reserve. The interest on Treasury bills, notes and bonds is exempt from state income taxes.

In addition, every four weeks, 52-week bills are auctioned. Treasury bills are issued in minimum denominations of $10,000 and are auctioned at a discount from their face or maturity value.

Another kind of treasury security is the zero-coupon bond. These bonds pay no interest along the way. Instead, they are sold at a deep discount or at a price that is much lower than the maturity value of the bond.

U.S. savings bonds
These are savings securities just covered. U.S. savings bonds are not fixed-income investments and they pay a variable interest rate, which is recalculated every six months. Series EE bonds sell for half their face or redemption value, which ranges from $50 to $10,000.

Corporate bonds

The U.S. Government sells bonds to raise money, so do corporations. It is wise to stay with only highly rated corporate bonds because of changing economic conditions. Corporate bonds typically offer the highest interest rate, but also the highest risk.

Convertible bonds

These are corporate bonds that can be converted into stock at a predetermined price. However, the conversion factor usually means the yield is one or more percentages below a straight bond.

U.S. China Buffet opens

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

What its owners call the largest Chinese buffet in Southern Illinois recently opened in Granite City, and the owners are "delighted at the warm and welcome reception that they have received," says Quang Giachaud, building owner.

Joseph and Quang Nguyen, two Asian brothers-in-law, own U.S. China Buffet, 1511 Johnson Road, and are very experienced in Chinese food.

Joseph owns another Chinese restaurant in St. Louis, and Quang is the former chef for Jay Luck in Brentwood.

One reason the two opened U.S. China Buffet in Granite City is because of the restaurant where Quang once worked.

The restaurant in Brentwood was a converted Ponderosa building. They were looking for another Ponderosa building to use the same concept.

The building was remodeled and can seat 200 people.

Chef Chang prepares more than 100 authentic Oriental foods. There is a hot Chinese food bar, and an even larger salad bar containing hot and cold items and desserts.

They were looking for another Ponderosa building to use the same concept.

Once the 35 employees are trained to handle the volume of people, U.S. China Buffet will hold a grand opening celebration.

Bunion Center
Of St. Louis

Bunions are painful enlargements of bone that occur at the base of the big toe. Bunions and Arthritis are often associated with bunions. Bunions are usually inherited, but can be aggravated by improper shoe gear.

The only way to remove a bunion is by surgical correction. Successful outcomes are based on choosing the correct procedure and the skill of the surgeon. Dr. Boberg, D.P.M. is the most highly trained foot surgeon in the metro east. He lectures extensively in the U.S. and Europe on bunion surgery and has developed innovative techniques in bunion repair.

BUSINESS

New cleaning supply store opens here

Superior Products, an automotive, janitorial and industrial cleaning supplies store, opened last Monday at 520 W. Main Road.

The store offers a full line of car fragrances, glass cleaners, solvents, acids, waxes, brushes and chamois. Superior Products also offers all-purpose cleaners Green All-Clean All and Cover All for engines, tires and interior dressing. The products are manufactured in East Alton.

John Bramlett, president and owner, opened the store to get people aware of the products, and build a bigger clientele.

The Bramletts, from East Alton, opened the store in Granite City because they want to serve companies in Granite City, Pontoon Beach, Madison, Venice and St. Louis.

John Bramlett has been with Superior Products for almost five years. He said it is a national company "moving a little bit further." He delivers the products to restaurants and individual customers, but wanted people to have a place to go to get the products themselves.

Dawn Bramlett said she thinks customers will like Superior Products because the products are manufactured specifically for automobiles, and the store has a 100 percent buy-back guarantee if the customer is not satisfied.

Right now, the store is sponsoring reduced prices for walk-in customers. The Bramlets are planning to hold a grand opening sometime soon.

Superior Products is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Memorial's Outpatient Surgery Center just got better... again.

In 1991, Memorial expanded its very successful Outpatient Surgery Center... but only after we asked our patients what they wanted. We responded by increasing our exceptional nursing professionals, and providing 28 comfortable private patient areas, convenient parking and access -- all with the immediate back-up of a full-service medical center.

However through our on-going service evaluation program, our patients told us how to even better serve them. So, we responded with:

- Centralized and quicker diagnostic testing before surgery (about half the time it used to take).
- A special private pre-surgery area for our outpatients.
- Two new state-of-the-art operating rooms for added scheduling convenience.
- A separate recovery area for our outpatients.

When your physician recommends outpatient surgery, whether minor or complex, ask that it be performed at Memorial's Outpatient Surgery Center --- where services are designed with our patients in mind.

Two real estate firms merge

Gerry Schuetzenhofer, president of Coldwell Banker Brown, and Kathleen Bertels, president of Bertels and Associates, announced Nov. 1 that Century 21 Bertels and Associates is now a part of Coldwell Banker Brown.

"This brings the number of Coldwell Banker Brown offices to six, with more than 115 real estate professionals serving the area," Bertels said. "Coldwell Banker Brown has the same high-quality service and commitment to the community that Bertels has maintained throughout its six years in business," Bertels said. "Becoming part of a successful and growing agency such as Coldwell Banker Brown will enable the Bertels staff to provide even better service to their clients and customers."

According to the Greater Gateway Association of Realtors, Coldwell Banker Brown has about 24 percent of the market share in the Metro East area. Coldwell Banker Brown offices are located in

DEAR SANTA

Letters from Santa
from the North Pole
Personalized for Your Kids
(or Adult Friends for Fun)

Kids In the Middle announces a special holiday delivery direct from the North Pole. Santa's elves have been busy working with Kids In the Middle to have Santa send personalized letters to all the children (or adults) on your shopping list. Each letter will contain a very special greeting from Santa himself, and will be uniquely tailored to each individual. The letters will be personally addressed to him or her and mailed the week of December 12th.

Santa's elves just need a little help from you in order for Santa to write his letter. Simply fill out the order form below, and mail with a minimum gift of $5.00 per letter to Kids In the Middle, Inc.

"Letters From Santa" can be a simple way to share the holiday spirit with that special child, grandchild, niece, nephew, adult or neighbor whether around the corner or across the country.

Please PRINT the following information for each child who is to receive a letter from Santa:

Christian Scientists plan Thanksgiving Day service

Many have seen how radically a grateful heart can change one's whole outlook and experience. They've found that a willingness to focus on the goodness in one's life instead of on what one lacks, brings an understanding of how trustworthy God's omnipotence is. As a Christian Scientist, I can put it,

"A grateful heart, a garden is where there is always room for every lovely, God-like grace to come to perfect bloom." (Christian Science Herald, Nov. 3.)

In this spirit of love and gratitude, the members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Granite City, at 26th Street and Diamond, invite the community to join in giving thanks to God. The service will be held at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 24. A service sheet from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read.

This year's reading includes passages on gratitude, such as St. Paul's advice to the Colossians, "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him. Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving." (Colossians 2: 6-7).

And, as Mary Baker Eddy points out, "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow His example is our proper debt to Him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all He has done." Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude.

Ruth Group studies Africa

The Ruth Group of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian Church held its monthly meeting at the church with the following members present: Sharon Calaway, Betty Ebrecht, Doris Edmonds, Barbara Ferguson, Carol Kennedy, Andrea Scott and Helen Stumpf.

Plans were made for the group's Christmas party and for the gifts to be given to the International Events, coming up in the Christian Fellowship and Church Women United were discussed.

Scott led the study and worship service on the theme of "Africa" and how the All-Africa Conference of Churches is trying to deal with the complexity of problems which are unique in the country and the church.

Refreshments were served by Ebrecht, assisted by Ferguson.

Few gifts actually improve with age. Your bank sells one of them.

St. Gregory Armenian Church plans 40th anniversary events

St. Gregory Armenian Church, 1732 Maple Street, Granite City, is celebrating its 40th anniversary later this month with a week-end of events, including a banquet, dances and visit from the Prelate of the Armenian Apostolic Church of the Eastern United States.

"This is an event the entire greater St. Louis Armenian community has been looking forward to all year. We will put together a weekend of fun, fellowship, dancing and to salute all the members of our church family who have worked so hard to keep this a thriving community," said the Rev. Vartan Kassabian, pastor of St. Gregory Armenian Church.

The banquet and dance will be held Saturday, Nov. 26 at the Armenian Community Center, No. 10 Colonial Drive, Granite City. Cocktails will begin at 5 p.m. with the dinner and program at 6 p.m. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. with the Mark Gavoor Ensemble.

Tickets for the banquet and dance are $25, and tickets only for the dance are $15. Call 667-8311.

For tickets or more information, please contact Annette Simpkins at 451-9753, or Mary Bedian at 849-5047.

The annual Granite City Jaycee Christmas Shopping Spree will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 17 at K-mart.

Every Christmas the Jaycees take local needy children shopping for clothing.

According to Rick Weaver, Jaycee secretary treasurer and shopping spree chairman, the Granite City School District will pick the children who will go shopping.

In the past, the children were nominated through letters from their parents, but Weaver believes the school district is a better option. "The school district knows who needs help. They see them everyday," said Weaver.

Weaver said the Jaycees will take about 36 children shopping and spend about $120, primarily for clothes, on each child.

Parents will be notified as to where to take the children.

Robert Proffitt wins for WIU debate team

Western Illinois University debaters recently won individual and team awards at the National Education Debate Association (NEDA) tournament at Transylvania University in Lexington, Ky.

science major Robert Proffitt from Granite City advanced through six preliminary rounds before defeating a team from Ferris State University in the semifinals.

Two freshman teammates from Granite City general education major Joanne Cobb and political science major Don Murphy, also won their semifinals competition over a team from Rock-Hulman Institute of Technology.

Since WIU had both semifinal winners, the final round was not held and Western was awarded the first and second place trophies.

Western was also awarded the top three individual awards with Barker placing first, Proffitt placing second and Murphy placing third.

In October, the WIU debaters, coached by communication professor Jerry Banning, won the novice and open divisions at the NEDA's 19th "Grand Prix" Cup Tournament in Indianapolis.

The final National Education Debate Association national tournament for 1994-95 will be held at WIU March 31 and April 1, 1995.

Before returning to Texas, Elboway stopped in West Frankfort and spent the rest of her vacation visiting there.

Registered nurse Mary Ann Douglas was the guest speaker at the Better Breathers Club meeting on Nov. 8. She explained the partnership between the heart and lungs.

Her topic was well received and generated good questions that concerned oxygen, blood pressure, medicines and exercise. She also explained how the blood flows from the right side of the heart and the purpose of each side. She was invited to return next year.

The monthly back class was held Nov. 15 in the office of Dr. Jerry Shipley, 200 E. Madison Road. Shipley spoke on "Neuropathy," a pinched nerve, which creates disability, illness and pain. He told of how manipulation can correct this problem when treated in time. He also showed a computerized video on subluxation and vertebrae and disks and how they control your body.

Cupcakes, made by Ann Giese, and soft drinks were served to Bob Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zelluman, Barb Schriber, Florence, E. Kueckhardt, Diane Staggs, Mary Mize, Robert McIntyre, Jeannette Weisenburger, Vickie Harper, Florence Brutner, Mary and Elsie May-coming team and returned to the state tournament last season after a one-year absence. Granite City also qualified six wrestlers for the individual state tournament, but ended the season with a dual loss to Waukegan in the state quarterfinals at Illinois State University in Normal.

Mike Garland said the Warriors appear to be back from Normal heading into Tuesday's season opener at O'Fallon.

"It hasn't been a very good pre-season," Garland said. "We're not starting out very good. The kids have been working hard on the mat and I have no problem with that; it's the stuff that occurs away from the mat that's getting the kids we have out if they're going to win."

"There wasn't a whole lot of wrestling going on over the summer and it doesn't look good as far as I'm concerned."

Senior T.J. Slay, a two-time state qualifier and one of the area's top wrestlers, has been sidelined by a thumb injury.

Horan, a senior who joined Slay at state the past two years, did not come out for the team, and returning state qualifier Tony Burek, a sophomore, has been slowed down by injuries.

But Garland's greatest concern has been a tendency to look too far ahead because of past success. The Warriors have a 70-4 dual record over the past three years and have rarely been challenged by the area's teams.

"That's what I'm trying to avoid," Garland said. "We have 2½ months to do something about it. Hopefully by the end of the year, they'll be confident instead of cocky. We need to change that attitude toward maturity and determination."

"The potential's there. But unless some of them change their attitudes around, it's going to be a bad year. On the bright side, you turn it into a positive and it's better to have it now and work it out than the end of the season."

"I think on paper that our chances are good. It's the seniors' team."

The Warriors lost just one senior to graduation from last year's 13-wrestler team, Eric Miller. The Warriors return 12 of the 13 wrestlers who competed at state against Waukegan.

The top returnees include Tim Fulkerson, who qualified for state as an individual last year and has been named team captain. Fulkerson wrestled at 119 pounds last season and went 38-4.

"He's working real hard and doing the necessary things to be successful," Garland said.

Slay, a four-year starter, is coming off his best season with the Warriors and is expected to be back in the lineup fairly soon. The 125-pounder went 46-3 as a junior and set a school record with 33 victories by fall. Slay broke a previous mark held by Bill Fuchs, who won a state title in 1987.

Fulkerson

Slay has compiled 122 victories over the past three years and is on track to break the GCHS career record for victories — 149, held by Brent Davis.

"I'm sure T.J. would trade that all in for a state title," Garland said.

Other returning state qualifiers include Buechel, who plans to compete in the Tennessee state tournament next year.

The Warriors also have several returning juniors who were starters last year, including heavyweight Chris Janek.

The third-year starter adds confidence to his frame this year and could be one of the area's top wrestlers in the 275-pound class.

"He's bigger and stronger,"

Garland said. "It makes a difference; there's no doubt about it. If he wrestles the way we want him to, he added strength should give him more confidence. If he wrestles with his hips in, he could be a force."

Granite City's junior class also includes Kevin Feigenbutz, a 130-pounder who filled in for Miller at the end of last season; John Clegg, a 145-pounder who went 29-14; Jon Scott, a 152-pounder who went 34-11; Jeff Estrada, a 160-pounder who went 35-14; and John Sellars, a 189-pounder who went 30-10.

The Warrior will have another familiar face back in the lineup, senior Jamie Kirby, who has moved back to Granite City from Tennessee. As a sophomore two years ago, Kirby started for GCHS in the 135-pound class and went 33-10.

Garland said Kirby wrestled in the Tennessee state tournament last year and split four matches.

"It's good to have him back," Garland said. "He was a great kid as a sophomore and we really hope he'll stay here."

Other sophomores hoping to earn spots include Adam Dunnavant, Jeremy Cox, Kelly Huckleberry, Andy Harris, Matt James, Eric Johnson, Vince Willaredi, and Nathan Zeissel.

Granite City's incoming freshman class is not deep, but Garland said it has some potential.

"What kind of competition is we don't have a lot of freshmen out," Garland said. "But they're better than average freshmen."

The first-year wrestlers include sophomore Leah Pacienza, Ryan Money-maker (119), Danny Mercer (140), Jonas Janek (140), Matt Glover (140), Dwight Newman (140), Mike Fuchs (160) and heavyweight Nick Campbell.

Tom Blaha, are back this season. Blaha will coach the Warriors' junior varsity team, and Greg Garland will handle the senior varsity squad.

"Coach Blaha did a great job with the kids last year," Mike Garland said. "Hopefully they can take it to the next level."

Mike Garland, who has completed a 149-341 record over the past seven years as Granite

City South, placing fifth.

"I feel like I have one of the best coaching staffs in the area," Mike Garland said. "I wouldn't trade it for anything. They've been there and they know what takes."

After taking on O'Fallon on Tuesday, GCHS will meet Carbondale and Centralia in its home opener Wednesday.

DUI?

Driving Under the Influence of Alcohol or Drugs in Illinois is a serious offense. Under current law, a first offense DUI can result in:

- a loss of all driving privileges for at least 30 days;
- restricted driving privileges for at least 3 months;
- a fine of at least $500.00;
- at least 10 hours of classes on alcohol and substance abuse;
- costs of treatment, insurance rates, possible loss of employment, and susceptibility to harsher penalties if you are ticketed or convicted of a subsequent DUI.

Although an attorney cannot guarantee a particular result, it is wise to consult an attorney for offenses that are as serious as DUI. Since police officers must follow highly technical procedures during a DUI arrest, there is always a possibility that the offense cannot be proven in a court of law. You stand little or no chance of taking advantage of the legal system if you are not represented.

John R. Abell, attorney at law and former state prosecutor, provides experienced representation in DUI defense. Call 288-6580 for a FREE consultation.

St. Elizabeth wins tourney
The St. Elizabeth School girls volleyball team captured first place in the Catholic Athletic League tournament, held earlier this month at Alton Marquette High School.

St. Matthew of Alton had won the double-elimination tournament in the second year. St. Elizabeth finished in third place in conference play during the regular season, but began the tournament with victories over St. Ambrose of Grafton and St. Bernard of Wood River in straight sets Nov. 5.

On Nov. 6, St. Elizabeth lost to St. Matthew, which had a perfect record. In the final year, St. Elizabeth earned a rematch after defeating St. Peter and Paul of Alton and foiled St. Matthew's attempt at a third consecutive victory in straight sets. The title win avenged last year's loss to St. Matthew in another first-place match.

The team, coached by Joyce and Jim Lohr, made up of 8th graders Andrea Bukavac, Linda Dohm, Julie Mills, Cooke Fields, Katie Thornton and 7th graders Michelle Charbonnier, Courtney Hitt, Megan Lyerla and Jennifer Noeth.

Legacy Turkey Tournament
The Legacy Turkey Tournament will be held at the Legacy Golf Course on Nov. 26.

Tee times will begin at 10 a.m. for the tournament, which will be held according to the number of teams entered. The fee of $30 per golfer includes 18 holes, prize money and food. Cart is extra.

For more information, call 931-4653.

Legacy winter rates
The Legacy Golf Club has announced winter golfing rates effective this month.

A round of nine holes during weekdays costs $7 or $12 with cart. A round of 18 holes during weekdays costs $14 or $20 with cart.

On weekends, a round of nine holes costs $10 or $15 with cart. A round of 18 holes costs $17 or $22 with cart.

Memberships for 1995 are now being offered. For more information, call 931-4653.

land said. "But I have no qualms with how we wrestled. We did better than the first time we went up there and we are improving."

It was the second state tournament team appearance for the Warriors, who lost 33-13 to Lincoln in the first two years. Despite losing almost its entire team to graduation, Granite City nearly returned to state the following year, losing 27-24 to Springfield in a sectional title match.

It was the first dual loss all year for the Warriors, who would go on to win a state championship and move forward, falling to Bloomington last season. Granite City's only other loss last year was against Waukegan. The Warriors are hoping to improve their return to state this year with a strong schedule that features the Springfield Tournament, the GCHS Holiday tournament and the highly regarded Genesis Tournament.

"It's the toughest tournament in the state," Garland said. "I think the Holiday is the toughest in southern Illinois."

NOTES: Garland said the 18-

Banquet

Although the children at the banquet obviously appreciated their awards, the most popular spot was the meat table where Federko and Wingo dished out autographs all night.

In his speech, Federko, who currently is general manager of the Louis Vipps roller hockey team, congratulated the recipients.

"I remember the first banquet like this that I attended as a child, and I always had a dream of mine to be a part of this type of event," Federko said. "It's obvious that Granite City has developed a fine parks program that provides sports for the kids."

"It's important to provide this education, and even more it's important for the kids to have a chance to compete."

Wingo, sports reporter and anchor for KSDK-TV, spoke next and joked that Federko had stolen all of his good material. "I'm sure I've irritated everybody. It shows that perseverance pays off in the long run. It's easy to be happy when you win, but I think the lessons are learned when you lose," he said.

The evening concluded as prizes donated by members of the park board and several local businesses were given out.

Horoscope

Sunday, Nov. 20

This Gemini man is glib, generous and forgetful; it's perfect for those concealing tiny wrongs or momentary thoughtlessness — all will be forgiven by tomorrow. But do you have to insist late in the week, when they won't fall subject to convenient memory lapses? When love gets puzzling, hold on. Arguments are insignificant in the week. Have a blast with youthful friends and relatives.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Loving partners become even more accommodating. Under the surface, jealousies are brought out in the evening, causing momentary stress but long-term peace. Much can be healed now through personal privacy.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Love is expressed through especially thoughtful gifts. Modesty and self-promotion strike a cool balance. A seemingly graceful conversationist finds you more uncomfortable than you think, so be helpful.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) Surprised by sudden success? Your reluctance to let others take over and show what they do are well founded. New acquaintances help you change unhealthy habits. You're particularly active tonight.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) Provide a strong shoulder for a loved one. Resuming an old pattern with friends has been through the mill; all heals now. Pay someone to pamper you while you brainstorm ways to increase earning power.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Make a positive move toward greater financial flexibility. Infrequent moments of togetherness are intense enough to keep a relationship on a high note. Friendships deepen through social events with the gang.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Romance creates a memorable scenario. Loved ones need consideration more than material gifts. You may feel your feelings, even if you don't plan to send them. Hold off on making a purchase for another day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Promote tight bonds within the family circle by initiating a meal together. A boss or mentor thinks you're ready for big-time responsibility. The money picture improves with a small attitude adjustment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A love breakthrough begins by letting the past go. The words of wisdom that don't apply today will be of special value in another month. An interesting discussion can lead help with a venture that's been slow to grow.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A lucky break comes from a teacher-student relationship. Questions that plague you now are answered later. The pie is the proverbial pudding. Older family members are the focus. A child shows chutzpah.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Artistic才能 are joyfully beaten down. Be firm with those who manipulate to get more than a fair share. Glamour requires a guide — don't be shy if you have to do research. You'll make a change in an area.

TO DAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 20)

Friendly sentiments from months just past re-emerge. Friends and spouses usually become life-long romances. Friends play an important role in a December windfall, but don't rely solely on their opinions. Popular stars around Jan. and February. A vacation cures work burnout in March. The more exotic the locale, the more quickly you are able to get back to productivity in April.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Face-to-face merchandising is lucrative. Love grows through genuine efforts. A special gift in your life is the ultimate tribute — be the first to pick up on them. A lucky presentation helps your students learn tricks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You have the resources to follow instructions and therefore save labor fees. A family reunion sheds light on your background. Relationships require extra attention. Fishing touches on old subjects yet you can't ignore.

Andrew Young to speak Dec. 1 at SIUE

Andrew Young, who is best known as a civil rights activist and former mayor of Atlanta, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 1, at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville as part of SIUE's Arts and Issues series, now celebrating its 10th anniversary.

Sponsor of Young's visit are Mission Management Services Company, celebrating its 75th anniversary, and the Greater St. Louis Chapter of the United Nations Association. Young, a former U.S. ambassador and chairman of the United Nations As A Peacekeeper," as part of a nationwide 50th Anniversary commemoration for the United Nations. He will appear in Meridian Hall of SIUE's University Center.

In addition to his work as ambassador, Young was appointed to represent the U.S. in the UN and remained in that position until 1979. During that period he also was a member of President Jimmy Carter's cabinet, a member of the National Security Council and the U.S. representative at international conferences.

"We are honored to have such a distinguished public servant as Andrew Young speak at Arts and Issues' 10th Anniversary Year," said Arts and Issues Coordinator Richard Walker. "We are especially proud that he will speak in the 50th Anniversary of the United Nations. As part of this observance, we have the opportunity to recognize the positive role that the U.N. has played during the last half of this century," he said.

United Nations Day, Oct. 24, kicked off a full year of programs sponsored by organizations throughout the country focusing on various aspects of the U.N. and its related agencies, including the St. Louis Chapter of the U.N. Association. James H. Buford, president and CEO of the local League of Metropolitan St. Louis will introduce Young before his presentation.

Young began his career of public service during the 1960s as a close associate of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. During King's tenure as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Young served as the organization's executive director and executive vice president. He organized many of King's famous marches and was with him in Memphis when King was assassinated.

Refusing to admit defeat after King's death, Young continued to play a vital role in the civil rights movement. In 1970, he won the Congressional seat from the Fifth District in Georgia, making him the first African-American Congressman from Georgia in more than 100 years. He served two terms in Congress and was active in a wide range of issues, including foreign affairs, the environment, human rights and foreign aid.

Young became mayor of Atlanta in 1982 and was overwhelmingly elected to a second term in 1985. During his two terms, he oversaw a management team that grew the city's population to 400,000 employees and a $1.2 billion budget was influential in the economic growth of Atlanta, and was instrumental in bringing the 1996 Olympic Games to the city. At the time he left office, 420 of the Fortune 500 companies were located in Atlanta.

After leaving office, Young joined Lummus Companies Group Inc., one of the most respected engineering and environmental consulting companies in the nation. A graduate of Howard University and Howard Theological Seminary, Young currently serves as co-chair of the Atlanta Olympics Organizing Committee.

Tickets for Andrew Young's Dec. 1 visit are $6; students of any age, $2, and are available at SIUE's Union Station ticket office, 1000 Lincoln Ave., or 618-527-2320. By writing Box Office and Issues, S.U.E., Edwardsville, IL 62026-1083. Ticket price includes free parking in the visitors' lot behind the Center.
